

Brass and Woodwind Products and People

Contributed by Amanda Winfield
Thursday, 05 July 2007
Last Updated Friday, 23 November 2007

MrEquipment.ca is THE place to be for:

- the latest news on brass and woodwind products
- professional opinions on student trumpets

- finding, buying and selling used instruments, parts and accessories

- just plain hanging out with people like you who have a soft spot in their heads for brass and woodwind gear and the people behind it.

Just click on one of the categories in the menu bar on your left, or check out the Forum or Classified Ads above.

- Gear- highlights new products in band instruments, evaluations from the MrEquipment Test Lab, where to buy hard-to-find accessories in Shopping with MrsEquipment, and links to resources like instrument serial numbers, repair technicians, and more
- People- features profiles of those music industry folks who make, sell and repair the stuff we use. You'll also find information on the people who've made history in the business, and even a section where you can find out what top players are using- and why...
- Fun- It's NEVER a waste of time!

CONTRIBUTORS WANTED!

We're looking for a few literate gearheads to prowl the booths at trade and educators shows to get the scoop on what new products are out there. If you're an instrument maker, seller or repair technician and want us to publish your propaganda, we'd love to see that, too! Got some funny stuff? Bring it on!

Please send an email to: contributions@mrequipment.ca with a proposal or short sample of your work.